Xining Preview Press Release – 12th-13th October 2012

IFSC Climbing World Cup goes East Asia: Kick-off competition in Xining this weekend

Torino, 10th October 2012 - In October Eastern Asia is the place to be for the world's best Speed and Lead climbers! The WC in Xining (CHN) on October 12th-13th is the prelude to a two-weeks-tour completed by competitions in Mokpo (KOR) and Inzai (JAP).

World Cup climbers are frequent flyer these days: Two weeks after the last Lead competition in Atlanta (USA) the IFSC retinue is moving to Xining (CHN) to take part in one of three contests coming up in East Asia within fourteen days.

The world's best Lead climbers - with Slovenia's Mina Markovic and Jakob Schubert (AUT) leading the way - are breaking the first ground in China with their qualifications on Friday, October 12th (start: 10.00 a.m. local time, start Speed qualifications: 4.00 p.m. local time).

Due to their two victories in a row each in the last competitions vice world champion Jain Kim (KOR) and Spain's routinier Ramón Julian Puiqblanque will be the chased Lead favourites in China. In the Speed competition it's on Libor Hroza (CZE) and Alina Gaydamakina (RUS) to retain their leading positions. The band begins to play on Saturday, October 13th with the Speed final for men and women at 2.00 p.m. local time, followed by the Lead finals at 5.00 p.m.

Further information and a detailed schedule on www.ifsc-climbing.org, all climbing fans that can't be on site will be able to watch the competition live on www.ifsc.tv.
